

Le Pellerin / St-Brevin-les-Pins

La Vélodyssée, the Atlantic Cycling Route

A stretch of water between the Loire, marshes and hedged farmland, the Martinière canal is your 'Ariadne's thread' helping you to track your course along this shared stage of La Vélodyssée and La Loire à Vélo. Enjoy the narrow, tranquil routes whilst soaking up the pastoral atmosphere, typical of the Loire Estuary. Final stage for the La Loire à Vélo and another starting point along the sea for La Vélodyssée, cycling to the rhythmic comings and goings of the tide. Your arrival at the estuary really immerses you in a new, really seaside atmosphere.

Itinerary
